

The University of Oklahoma will provide a scholarship to eligible individuals that pays all educational expenses incurred in association with approved coursework in the University of Oklahoma College of Public Health (COPH) leading to a Master of Public Health (MPH) or a Certificate of Public Health (CPH). Persons eligible to receive this scholarship are members of the University of Oklahoma College of Medicine's School of Community Medicine (SCM) in Tulsa including:

- Resident physicians
- Current medical students in the School of Community Medicine Track
- Full-time faculty
- Physician assistant students in the Tulsa, SCM program

Covered educational costs will include applicable tuition as well as required fees and books. The scholarship will be in the form of a reduction of tuition and fees; books will be reimbursed separately. If other benefits pay a portion of these expenses, those sources will be applied first.

Faculty physician applications must be endorsed by the Department Chair; resident physician applications must be endorsed by the Residency Program Director and Department Chair.

Recipients must comply with the enrollment and academic policies and procedures of the University of Oklahoma College of Public Health. Enrolled students will declare that they are seeking a degree or certificate and will receive a scholarship for all courses in the academic plan leading to an MPH or CPH. Students will have seven years to complete the degree or certificate, however must be a current student, faculty, or resident of the OU School of Community Medicine to continue as a scholarship recipient.

There will be no clinical service obligations attached to this scholarship. Continued scholarship support requires that the individual remains in good academic standing in the Oklahoma College of Public Health. If a recipient drops or fails a course, a scholarship will not be provided for repeating the course.

Medical Students must complete the MS3 and MS4 years in Tulsa as part of the SCM Track. Failure to do so will require full repayment of this scholarship prior to graduation.

Recipients of the scholarship will be required to follow procedures as outlined by the OUSCM Office of Student Services and provide all requested documentation by posted dates, prior to each semester, to guarantee tuition and fee payments and reimbursements for other covered educational costs.

I have read the above and agree to accept the University of Oklahoma College of Medicine's School of Community Medicine Public Health Scholarship.
