INTERNATIONAL TEACHING EXPERIENCE:

I developed four different study abroad opportunities for University of Oklahoma students to study in four different Sub-Saharan African countries (to Senegal in 2006, to Togo and Ghana in 2011, to Tanzania in 2013, and to France in 2017, 2018, 2019, 2022). For each study program, I developed a country-specific course on society, culture and economic development, as well as being responsible for the financial and logistical details of the study experience.

- Summer 2017-19: Developed Global France, Global French. Clermont-Ferrand, France. Undergraduate students took two courses, Migration and Social Change (from Dr. Bass) and French Literature in Translation (with Dr. Winston, CAS). Students stayed in university dormitories.
- Summer 2013: Developed Journey to Tanzania and Zanzibar Island with Dr. Prichard in Honors College. OU undergraduate and graduate students (20) took Local Communities and Global Development Agendas course with me. Students stayed in African host families and took formal Swahili language instruction from the TCDC in Arusha. Video from this experience: http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=SWrlbz2x53M&list=UUe_4D5sAauvsAzUgm1Eksgw
- Summer 2011: Developed Expedition to Africa Summer Study Program to Togo and Ghana. OU undergraduate and graduate students took Cultures and Societies of West Africa from Dr. Bass, while studying three different colonial legacies and subsequent events in these two West African countries. Students stayed in host family environment. <http://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ewLR71xmWpU>
- Summer 2006: Developed Summer Study in Senegal Program. Dakar, Senegal. Nine undergraduate students took two courses, Social Change and Development (from Dr. Bass) and Wolof language (ACI Baobab Institute). Students stayed in host family environment.
